Dear Abdul Majid,

Thank you for contacting the Admissions Office of Jeonbuk National University (JBNU). We appreciate the detailed explanation you provided regarding your academic documents and the existing attestations from IBCC, MOFA, and the Apostille attached to your original certificates and transcripts.

We fully understand your concern about sending irreplaceable original documents internationally. Below is the official guidance based on our document submission policy.

1. Acceptability of Certified True Copies with Notarial and MOFA Apostille Attestation

JBNU requires original documents for admission procedures. However, when originals cannot be submitted, our guidelines clearly allow the submission of copies if they have been verified / certified as true copies by an official institution or public notary in the applicant's home country.

Additionally, documents may be authenticated through the Apostille process or by the relevant embassy.

Therefore, the submission method you proposed is acceptable to JBNU, provided that each step is completed properly:

Your Proposed Method – Evaluation

1. High-quality color copy of the original document (front and back)
  - This is acceptable.
2. Certification by a Notary Public in Pakistan as a “Certified True Copy of the Original”
  - This satisfies JBNU’s requirement for notarized copies.
3. Apostille issued by the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MOFA) of Pakistan verifying the notary’s authority
  - Pakistan is an Apostille Convention country; therefore, an Apostille is an officially recognized method of diploma verification.
  - This step confirms the authenticity of the notarization.
4. Submitting the Apostilled, notarized, two-sided certified true copies by international mail
  - This satisfies our requirement for official hard-copy document submission in cases where the original cannot be sent.

Therefore, your suggested process is acceptable and will be recognized as an official and valid submission for admission evaluation.

2. Additional Notes for Your Application

- If you send copies first (as required by the document submission deadline), please ensure they arrive on time.
  - Original-equivalent certified/Apostilled copies must be received no later than February 20, 2026, which is the final deadline for submission of all original or verified documents.
  - All stamps, attestations, and Apostilles on the back side of your documents must be clearly visible in the certified copies.
  - If you are an expected graduate, the final certificate must also be submitted by the same deadline.

3. Summary

Yes — the method you described (color copy → notarization → MOFA Apostille → mailing the certified copy) is fully acceptable for JBNU's document screening and verification process. You may proceed with confidence.

If you have any additional questions or require further assistance, please feel free to contact us at any time.

Warm regards,

정주영(Jung Juyoung)

Subject : Request for Confirmation on Certified True Copy & Apostille Submission Process

Dear Admissions Office,

My name is Abdul Majid, and I am an applicant from Pakistan. I am reaching out to request clear guidance on the correct method for submitting my officially attested academic documents, including both my High School Certificates and Transcripts (SSC and HSSC).

Background:

My original certificates and transcripts already contain several official government attestations on the back, including:

- IBCC Attestation
- Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MOFA) Attestation
- An official Apostille issued by MOFA

These attestations are permanent parts of the original documents, and because the originals are irreplaceable, I cannot mail them internationally.

My Question:

To meet your requirement for submitting official hard-copy academic documents, I would like to confirm whether the following process is acceptable for your institution (and for universities generally):

1. Make a high-quality color copy of both sides of the original certificate and transcript, ensuring the copy clearly shows the academic information on the front and all government stamps and attestations on the back.
2. Have this two-sided copy notarized by a Notary Public in Pakistan as a “Certified True Copy of the Original.”
3. Take the notarized copy to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MOFA) to obtain a new Apostille, verifying the Notary Public’s authority.

The final document I would send by international mail to Korea would be this newly apostilled, notarized, two-sided certified true copy of my original certificate and transcript.

Could you please confirm whether this method is acceptable for your evaluation process?

I want to ensure my documents fully meet your institution’s standards before sending them.

Thank you very much for your time and assistance. I greatly appreciate your guidance.

Warm regards,
Abdul Majid

Dear Mr. Jung Juyoung,

Thank you very much for your detailed and exceptionally clear response. I am sincerely grateful. Your explanation has been the most helpful guidance I have received, and it has resolved a major point of confusion for me in the application process.

I have just one brief follow-up question to ensure I fully understand the final step.

My proposed process was to:

1. Make a high-quality color copy of the original document (front showing results, back showing the original Apostille/stamps).
2. Have this copy notarized as a “Certified True Copy.”
3. Obtain an Apostille for the notarized copy.

My question concerns Step 3:

Since the color copy already displays the original MOFA Apostille, is it still necessary to obtain a second, new Apostille for the notarized copy?

Or would the notarized copy alone (Steps 1 and 2) be sufficient, given that the original Apostille is visible on the copy?

I am asking in the interest of simplifying the process, but I am of course fully prepared to follow all three steps if that is the official requirement for verification.

Thank you once again for your outstanding support and patience. I truly appreciate your guidance.

Warm regards,
Abdul Majid

Dear Abdul Majid,

Thank you very much for your thoughtful message once again. I am glad to hear that my previous explanation was helpful, and I appreciate your careful effort to ensure each step is correctly understood.

Regarding your follow-up question on the Apostille process, I would like to clarify the requirement based on our admission document policies:

✓ Answer to Your Question

Even if your color copy already shows the original MOFA Apostille, a notarized copy is considered a new, separate document.

Therefore:

- The notarized true copy itself must be independently verifiable.
- For it to be recognized in Korea as an official substitute for the original, the notarization must also receive its own Apostille.

Why a second Apostille is required

- The Apostille attached to your original document certifies only the original.
- Once you create a copy and have it notarized, what needs to be authenticated is the notary's certification, not the image of the original Apostille on the copy.
- Therefore, the Apostille must be issued on the notarization, confirming the notary's authority and the copy's legitimacy.

Conclusion

✓ Yes – you still need a new Apostille for the notarized copy.
A notarized copy without an Apostille is not sufficient for final document verification.

Your proposed 3-step process is exactly correct:

1. High-quality color copy
2. Notarization as a Certified True Copy
3. Apostille on the notarized document

This is the proper and recommended method.

If you have any further questions — whether about documentation, submission, or visa preparation — please feel free to contact me anytime. I am always happy to support you.

Dear Mr. Jung Juyoung,

I hope you are doing well. Thank you very much for your continued guidance and for confirming the complete list of required documents. Your support has been extremely helpful throughout this process, and I sincerely appreciate your patience.

I wanted to follow up regarding the Diploma Verification Document, which you mentioned must be apostilled. I visited IBCC yesterday to inquire about this document, but I was unable to find any reference to it or guidance on obtaining it.

From my understanding of the Pakistani process:

- IBCC attestation is mandatory for any academic document before it can receive an Apostille. Without IBCC verification, MOFA will not issue an Apostille for academic documents.
- Since IBCC does not attest any document called "Diploma Verification Document," I am unsure how I would be able to obtain an Apostille for it.

Furthermore, I could not locate this document anywhere, either online or through IBCC inquiries. I wanted to clarify with you how I should proceed in this case, as it seems this document does not exist in Pakistan.

Could you kindly advise me on how Pakistani applicants are expected to fulfill this requirement?

Thank you once again for your continued support and guidance. I greatly appreciate your assistance in resolving this matter.

Warm regards,

Dear Mr. Abdul Majid,

Thank you for your message and for sharing your concern.

The sample document you sent appears to show how another student completed the authentication process, including multiple official stamps and verifications below.

You may use this to understand the general procedure and prepare your documents in a similar manner.

However, please note the following:

1. Country-specific procedures vary

Document authentication requirements can differ significantly by country, and Jeonbuk National University cannot provide exact step-by-step instructions for each national process.

2. Recommended next steps

For Pakistan, we kindly suggest:

- Consulting a local educational consultancy or study-abroad agency familiar with Korean university applications
- Confirming the correct sequence directly through:
  - IBCC
  - MOFA
  - The Korean Embassy in Pakistan

They will be able to provide the most accurate and up-to-date guidance.

3. University requirements

From the university's side, the final requirement remains:

- Officially authenticated academic documents
- Submitted within the designated deadline
- Without missing or altered information

Once your documents are fully processed, you may submit the scanned versions first and provide the originals afterward as instructed.

If you have any further questions, please feel free to contact us.
We appreciate your patience and effort throughout this process.

Dear Mr. Jung Juyoung,

I hope you are doing well. Thank you very much for your continued guidance and support throughout my application process.

I would like to kindly request your advice regarding my profile and eligibility for undergraduate admission to JBNU, specifically for programs in Computer Science and AI-related fields.

Academic Background

- Higher Secondary School Certificate (HSSC / Grades 11–12) – 2020, 60%
(Completed during the COVID-19 pandemic, which presented significant challenges to learning environments)
- Secondary School Certificate (SSC / Grades 9–10) – 2018, 92%

Gap Period

Following my HSSC, I took a short break from formal studies to support my family financially. During this period, I gained practical experience by working with several companies and taking on freelance projects, which helped me develop important professional skills and a strong sense of responsibility. Now that my family's financial situation is stable, I am fully prepared and motivated to continue my academic journey.

English Proficiency

- IELTS overall score: 7.5
  - Writing: 7
  - Speaking: 7.5
  - Listening: 8
  - Reading: 8

I would greatly appreciate your guidance on whether an academic gap of this length, along with the circumstances surrounding it, would pose any issue for undergraduate admission to JBNU, and more generally, for other universities in Korea.

Thank you very much for your time, patience, and continued support. Your advice will help me approach my application with confidence.

Warm regards,

Dear Mr. Abdul Majid,

Thank you for your email.

First, I would like to inform you that the Computer Science and AI-related undergraduate programs have already closed all recruitment with the end of the 2nd round for the 2026 Spring intake. Therefore, you will need to apply again for the 2026 Fall admission, which will begin around March 2026.

Regarding your questions:

Your academic background (SSC 92%, HSSC 60%) meets the basic eligibility for undergraduate admission, and your gap period will not cause any problem. Many applicants have similar circumstances, and explaining that you supported your family during that time is fully acceptable.

Your IELTS 7.5 is an excellent score. English-taught programs accept it, and although Korean-track majors such as Computer Science require TOPIK, you may prepare TOPIK before the next application period.

To summarize:

- Your grades and profile are eligible.
- Your gap period is acceptable and not disadvantageous.
- Your IELTS score is strong.
- Computer Science/AI programs have already closed for Spring 2026.
- Please apply again for the 2026 Fall intake.

If you need further help with document preparation or language requirements, please feel free to contact me anytime.

Dear Mr. Jung Juyoung,

Thank you very much for your reply and for the reassurance regarding my academic profile and gap period. I sincerely appreciate your continued support throughout this process.

I would like to kindly request one clarification regarding the language requirements.

You mentioned that Computer Science and other related majors are Korean-track programs. May I please confirm whether JBNU offers any English-track undergraduate programs in the following fields:

- Computer Science
- Artificial Intelligence
- Electrical or Electronic Engineering

Or are these majors offered only through the Korean-track?

Thank you once again for your time, patience, and guidance.

Dear Abdul Majid,

Thank you for your message, and I appreciate your thoughtful follow-up question regarding the language requirements. I am glad to provide further clarification.

1. English-Track Availability in Engineering and Computer Science Fields

At Jeonbuk National University, the designated English-track undergraduate programs are limited to the following:

- School of International Studies (International Studies Major)

- School of International Engineering & Science (Engineering and Science Majors offered within this school)

These are the only official English-track units available at the undergraduate level.

2. Computer Science, Artificial Intelligence, Electrical Engineering, and Electronic Engineering

The majors you have listed are not offered as English-track programs. Specifically:

- Computer Science
- Artificial Intelligence
- Electrical Engineering
- Electronic Engineering

All of these departments operate under the Korean-track, which means regular coursework is conducted primarily in Korean. International students applying to these majors must meet the Korean language requirements, such as submitting a valid TOPIK score.

3. What This Means for Your Application

If you wish to pursue one of the majors listed above, please note:

- They are available only through the Korean-track.
  - You will need sufficient Korean proficiency to complete major and general education courses.
  - English-track admission does not include Computer Science or other engineering departments outside the School of International Engineering & Science.

If you need guidance on choosing between Korean-track and English-track options, language preparation, or future application planning, I will be glad to assist you further. Please feel free to contact me anytime.

Dear Mr. Jung Juyoung,

I hope you are doing well. Thank you very much for your continued guidance and support throughout my application process.

I am seeking clarification regarding the Korean language requirement for undergraduate programs in Computer Science and Artificial Intelligence at JBNU.

I recently spoke with a Pakistani student currently residing in Korea, who completed his undergraduate degree at Chonnam National University. He shared that he was admitted directly into a D-2 degree program, completed Korean language courses during the first year, and then continued with his major courses. This was part of his degree program, not a separate D-4 language program.

Based on this experience, I would like to confirm whether JBNU offers a similar pathway for international students applying to Korean-track CS/AI programs. Specifically:

- Can students be admitted first under a D-2 student visa and complete Korean language study during the degree?
- Or is a valid TOPIK score required prior to admission for these majors?
- If this pathway is available but limited to certain majors, could you kindly share which majors allow this option?

I appreciate your time and guidance on this matter, as it will help me better plan my application for the 2026 Fall intake.

Thank you very much for your continued support.

Warm regards,
Abdul Majid

Dear Abdul Majid,

Thank you for your message and for your continued interest in Jeonbuk National University. I appreciate your thoughtful questions regarding the Korean language requirement for Korean-track undergraduate programs in Computer Science and Artificial Intelligence.

I would like to clarify the following points regarding JBNU's admission policy:

1. Admission to Korean-track Majors (Including CS/AI)

For all Korean-track undergraduate programs at JBNU — including Computer Science & Artificial Intelligence — applicants must meet the language requirement before admission. This means a valid TOPIK Level 2 or higher (or an approved equivalent) is required at the time of application.

JBNU does not admit Korean-track undergraduate students under a D-2 visa first and then allow them to complete Korean language study during the degree period. Completing Korean language coursework after admission is not permitted as a substitute for meeting the language requirement.

2. Comparison with Other Universities

Each university in Korea operates under its own policies.

Some institutions allow D-2 admission first, followed by Korean language study during the first year. However, JBNU does not offer this pathway for undergraduate students.

3. Recommended Option: Korean Language Education Center (D-4 Visa)

If you plan to strengthen your Korean proficiency before applying, we strongly recommend enrolling in the JBNU Korean Language Education Center.

After completing the required levels or obtaining a valid TOPIK score, you can then apply for the undergraduate program.
